Wow what great internal controls Tesla has. Hundreds of missing battery modules, distinction between "physically" and "virtually" scrapping. $tsla

Thanks for the detailed analysis.

Coming out of this, we need to solidify our processes to ensure we do not have any leaks moving forward.

THIS is when I started finding all the 'missing' scrap, and over 150,000,000 dollars of real missing scrap. Then, in front of my eyes, as a query refresh occurred, it all vanished. I finally realized it went from 'Scrap' to 'Test'. Voila!

Who purchased the scrap or how was the scrap disposed? What companies were involved?

Would be sus if the second highest ranked exec at Tesla would also own a recycling company, isn't it?

Hey Marty, a few days ago you only had 3 followers, now you've got over a thousand.

Way to go :)
